

A Study on Curriculum Reform for Children of Foreign Brides

Jin-Hui Wu

The purposes of this study were to explore emigrant education curriculum reform for children of foreign brides. The study focused on three aspects: 1. understanding foreign emigrant situation, 2. analyzing possible educational difficulties for children of foreign brides; 3. finding methods and suggestions of curriculum reform for children of foreign brides. The research methods used were literature analysis, document collection and interview. Two respects for choosing study samples are shown as follows. In the level of counties and cities, took Taipei County, Taoyuan County, Taipei City, Tainan City, Kaohsiung City, Penghu County were taken for samples; In the level of instructions, the personnel of the Bureau of Education, elementary school directors, and teachers were taken for samples. Finally, some conclusions were drawn.

Keywords: children of foreign brides, curriculum programs , curriculum reform

Doctoral student, Graduate Institute of Educational Entrepreneurship and Management,
National University of Tainan